THE NEW BOYCOTT.

In less than a week's time, we shall know for certain whether the Canton Government is really sincere in its declaration that it has arranged for the termination of the boycott. Mr. Eugene Chen's intimation to the British Consul General was that the boycott would end on or before October 10th; there was no proviso attached to the statement-it was a definite announcement that arrangements had been made with the Strike Committee which would have that effect on or before the date mentioned. Should conditions remain unaltered after Sunday next, then the Canton Government will stand absolutely discredited; it will "lose face" not only throughout the Far East, but the world over, for the contents of Mr. Eugene Chen's assurance have been cabled all over the globe.

News from Canton makes it evident that, despite the Government's promise, a big attempt is afoot to keep alive the boycott, and even extend it, under another name. For this purpose, the present ban on British trade is being referred to as a "blockade," and it is intimated that whilst the "blockade" will be lifted, it will be replaced by "a new boycott movement." Incidentally, according to the Strike Committee's scheme, the picket corps and all other boycott forganisations will still remain in existence. This new boycott movement will," if the extremists have their way, be extended to all parts of China, and the Canton Government is being asked to give encouragement to it. Then there is a report that after October 10th, a new organisation of some 1,600 searchers, will be formed for the purpose of detecting British goods coming into Canton. These developments, taken together with the Labour Committee's statement that the Government does not intend to interfere with the boycott, it having merely decided to stop, the "blockade" for diplomatic reasons, all tend to show that there is much double-dealing going on in Canton at the moment in regard to the Government's professed intentions to bring the present situation

As we read the position, the Canton Government is at the moment on the horns of a dilemma in this matter. That is what comes of trying to run with the hare and hunt with the hounds. The Government is said to be in difficulty about fram- Central Magistracy yesterday.

When Hough yesterday was cancelled. he writes to the British Consul definitely that the Government has arranged to terminate the boycott by a given date, he must expect to herself were sentenced to terms of be taken at his word. It is nothing to us whether the movement be termed a "blockade" or a "boycott." All that we demand is that there be no further organised interference with British trade. But there surely have been no more mischievous suggestion than that which Sir Austen Chamberlain denied yesterday, namely, that his talk with Signor Mussolini was in the nature of a "set-off" to the Briand-Stressemann meeting Thoiry just after the Geneva meetings. It is to be hoped that a more trustful spirit than has existed between the European, nations for some years past will now be generated in the friendly atmosphere created by such historic gatherings as those held at Locarno and Geneva, and that pettifogging in trigues and jealousies, will become less pronounced in European poli tics. When Sir Austen Chamberlain, in pursuance of Britain's consistent post-war policy of placating Europe's differences, makes friendly calls on the Italian Premier and also on the French Foreign Minister during the course of his holiday in furtherance of the task of straightening out tangles, it is not very helpful to suggest that he is playing a part in a game of intrigue and that there are hidden meanings behind these calls. It is pleasing to assert, as one can with every cause, that Britain's European policy is framed to bring the various factions and groups into harmonious working relationships with one another, and not a little credit can be claimed by British statesmen for the successful conferences already held. If France and Germany can become trusting and friendly neighbours, and if Italy can have her suspicions and fears allayed, then a great work will have been done in the cause of international peace. EXCESSIVE LOAD.

LORRY CAUSES DANGER TO PEDESTRIANS.

"It is a very serious case against the driver," remarked Sub-Inspector Alexander to Major C. Willson, at the Central Police Court this morning, during the hearing of a case brought under the traffic regulations. Two a Chinese were charged, one with driving an excessively laden lorry, and the other with allowing it to be driven, as the owner.

Sergt. Hopkins said the maximum load allowed was 7 tons The weight of the lorry and load in question was 8 tons, 7 cwts., 2 quarters: The total length was 27 feet, sixteen feet of which was overhanging from the back, and the ends of the planks which were being carried were scraping along the road."

Sub-Inspector Alexander, in remarking that it was a serious case, said the length was such that if person was walking along the path, reading a newspaper as many people did, and the lorry turned a corner, the end of the load was long enough to swing round and knock such a man

The owner of the lorry said he did not know what the load was, as he had not seen it. . The driver said the load was only just over seven tons, and he did not know its nature. Also he was afraid if he did not take it, he would not get paid for a previous load. Remarking that he thought the driver was to blame, his Worship said it was obvious that the load ought not to have been taken. As the owner had not apparently seen it, he would be fined $10, and the driver $25.

DANGEROUS DRIVING.

In another case, a Chinese was charged with the dangerous driving of a Ford lorry. It was stated by Sergt. Baker that he overtook another lorry at a dangerous (corner at a speed of over, twenty miles an hour.

The defendant said he had been to Aberden to pick up dead bodies, victims of the typhoon, and as he was in a hurry when coming back he accelerated. He was fined $10.

THE PRESENTATION.

Last evening's gathering in the Reading Room of the Dock Recreation Club was a very happy one, practically the whole of the Dock staff attending.

Mr. K. R. Macaskill, the Chairman, in the course of an introductory speech, said that although there" had been many silver, weddings celebrated in the Dock, this was a special one because the parties had been married from the happy a Golden Wedding.

The presentation of a canteen Mrs. Duncan by Mr. R. Lapsley, one of the senior members of the Staff, who said it was but a token of the great respect in which Mr. Duncan and his "Guid Wife" was held by them all. Mr. Lapsley said he was grateful at being allowed to make the presentation because his wife was one of Mrs. Duncan's bridesmaids. Mr. Duncan, he continued, was a man who was always willing to go out of his way to do extra work and to help others.

Mr. Duncan made suitable acknowledgments, saying that on looking round the gathering he sny many who were present when he received his wedding present from the then staff. He objected to so much talk about himself when it should all have been said about his wife, of whom the phrase "better half" did not express nearly enough.

Toasts with musical honours were given and there were later speeches made by Messrs. Scott, Rattay, Steel, Greig and Neilson. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Scott said that all of them were aware, as he was, how excellent a. man their friend Mr. Duncan was, "and I venture to say to his face, what all of us think that no more steadfast friend, no cheerier chum exists amongst us although we have many kind friends and neighhours in our midst. Twenty-five years is a long spell, gentleman; it exceeds, one-third, of the generally alloted span of our existence. For that space of time, however, our friends Mr. and Mrs. Duncan have been united by the most sacred ties by which we mortals can be bound. All those years they have stood as an example of domestic felicity and we have watched with interest and affection" the sons growing up to manhood, the ornaments of this truly domestic hearth. So, gentlemen, let us be merry; it is the twenty-fifth anniversary of happy day, often to be overtaken, spring is gone, it may be; the sum-

PROMISE OF KEEN COMPETITION IN NEW CAMPAIGN.

FIXTURES FOR THE FIRST HALF.

[BY "WANDERER."]

Local football begins in real earnest on Saturday, most teams are tuned up for a strenuous campaign, and there is a feeling of optimism existing in almost every club.

What is the new season likely to bring forth? The majority of teams will renew the struggle with a strong nucleus of the players who completed the old campaign, and I do not anticipate any startling reversals of form.

The R. A. and the Tamar sides are the "dark horses" at present, and it is evident that Kowloon will have a stern tussle if they hope to repeat their wonderful successes of 1925-26.

Being an all-round athlete, holder of many cups and prizes I began to give up all hope of ever taking my place again among the athletts. One day one of my fellow workmen inquired how my leg was, and told me it was Clarke's Blood. n bottle, and when I had finished it I was not only surprised myself, but all my workmates could see improvement.
I could bend my knee a little and that gave me encouragement, so I persovered with it and am glad to say seven bottles completely cured me. I am now no well as ever, and am still holding my own as an athlete.

Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes, and expels the impurities, that is why so many tenarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients. SEVERE FIGHTING REPORTED.

parties have been organised, and are reported to have already been despatched to Soochow, Shanghai," Hangchow, and several other places.

"It is rumoured that General Wang Chan-yuan, who is staying here, intends to proceed to Klukiang with General Chin Yun-peng, as soon as General Chin arrives here, with the object of starting a movement for alliance of the Southern and North-eastern Provinces."

NORTHERN REINFORCEMENTS.

A. Chinese news agency mesage from Peking, dated Sept. 28th says:-Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan is, endeavouring to persuade the Mukden Party to have a portion of the Shantung troops put under his command for the purpose of reinforcing Hupeh in order to avoid possible misunderstanding.

General Wang Tung's troops are preparing to participate in the Southern campaign on instructions from the Mukden authority, troop movements having already commenced.

SUN CONFIDENT.

A correspondent writing to the N. C. Daily" News from Nanking Bird, the Hon. Mr. C. McI. Messer under date of the 28th ult. says:--hai about this situation," said one of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang's staff officers in parting yesterday, "please be cheerful about it. Tell the people that we cannot possibly (Kai-shek) being pushed back into Hunan we have broken the Red none of us if the Cantonese were reach Shanghai."

This sanguine statement was the conclusion of an attempted interview with Marshal Sun Chuanfang on the China Merchants str. Kinghsin at Kuikiang. It may sound over-confident, but it does no more than confirm the general impression that one gets coming down the river after getting well away from pessimistic and poorly informed Hankow.

ESTIMATE OF RIVAL FORCES.

There is much dispute among observers about "the relative strength of the Allied and Red forces. In Kiukiang foreigners give Sun Chulan-fang credit for 170,000 men. Junior officers whom a Nanking correspondent questioned and one staff officer all gave the same reply-"ten-odd ten thousands," which is to say from 130,000 to 140,000. In Nanking it is estimated that a maximum of 60,000 men have gone up river. All the available troops in Kiangsi would not bring the total up to 100,000.

On the other side there are probably 50,000 left of the original Cantonese, Hunanese and Kiangsi men who set out on the expedition. According to General Sun's chief of staff, however, these have been joined by scores of impecunious Hunanese units who see an opportunity to draw regular pay for a change. Whatever their numbers, they are not of great fighting value.

Of course no prophecies are ventured as to the outcome of the struggle, for the writer is only attempting to give a skeleton picture of the military situation and its potentialities. The only thing that seems at all certain is that if Chang Kal-shek is being pushed back by Luc Hsiang-ting, the Red conquerors will have to abandon Hupeh and either bolt for home or make a stand somewhere in the vicinity of Chuchow. reinforcements got back to Chuchow in orderly fashion, it is always possible that Chang Kaishek might make another dash for Nanchang and attempt to come up through Klangsi. The odds are, however, that if Chang and his two crack divisions are beaten, the expedition will collapse in ruins.

to comment with restraint. Treatles, which are still theoretically in force, give British merchantmen the right to navigate China's inland waterways under very limited check from recognized Chinese officialdom and under no check whatever from outlaws." British gunboats are kept on the rivers, at no small expense, to ensure that all classes of Chinese respect these rights and do not exceed their own rights in interference with shipping. If China had a civil war every 80 or 40 years, between recognized belligerents under responsible leaders, it might be no more than reasonable to waive a few rights and submit to a few inconveniences.

But when war in China is incessant and universal, when the irresponsible leaders who head the various factions show every inclination to take advantage of the waiving of foreign rights instead A.D.C., Lieut. R.Q.F. Johnston, the of appreciating it, and when neither party to the war of the moment represents a recognized government nor is a recognized belligerent, it is very obvious that any interference with foreign Hallifax, the Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp, shipping, such as the firing on merchantmen or gunboats, or the examination of any craft flying a foreign flag, is nothing less than piracy and should be dealt with as such.

In making this statement the writer has the clearly expressed endorsement of at least two of the numerous Admirals now on the river, and one at least says that he will regard any Cantonese interference with the shipping under his care as piracy and deal with it in the only fitting manner, that is with as destructive gunfire as he has at his command. Any other policy, dictated by timidity or expediency, when ships and guns are available, is a betrayal of the faith of the foreign communities that have assembled here to do business and Stirt, Mr. E. SOMETHING STILL IN HAND.

As for the up-river situation, when it would be wrong to say that the be whole moral advantage gained by the splendid fight at Wanhsien is to be thrown away out of deference to the Russian inspired agitators who are scattering antiforeign leaflets about Hankow. Technically there may be no second expedition and officially the need for it may have passed, but three gunboats are going to Wanhsien and Chungking and when the Navy find a situation that needs mending, they are not likely to pause long in considering what Mr. Borodin's agents are going to think about the action that they see fit to take. 'Admiral Cameron's instructions were weak and the abandonment of the second expedition while Yang Sen is not only above the sod but is actually in control of Wahsien, and when such an excellent opthe twelve months.
